

Royal Cambrian Academy of Art.

EXHIBITION, 1964

A. Benger Francis. V.C.R.O.A.

25th July - 2nd September

National Library of Wales, Aberystwyth

Foreword

In this age of easy communication it is appropriate that the Royal Cambrian Academy should no longer confine its exhibitions to Plas Mawr. This exhibition of works by members is the second to be held at the National Library of Wales and may be an indication of the future pattern of Academy shows. The aim of the Council is to tour the Annual Exhibition, showing at three centers in the Principality, North, Mid and South. The splendid gallery at Aberystwyth is an obvious choice in such a scheme.

The Council of the Academy wish to acknowledge with gratitude the great help given by the officers and staff of the National Library in organizing and hanging this exhibition.
